○ "Product Safety Issues Challenging Congress in a Changing World"

Consumer product safety issues are consistently before both Houses of Congress. Wrestling with legislative solutions to consumer product safety issues is a focus of Congressional staff, consumer advocates, industry lobbyists and the CPSC. Is CPSC's jurisdiction sufficient to deal with the onslaught of defective foreign products? Can CPSC provide an acceptable solution to thousands of homes affected by contaminated Chinese drywall? How should CPSC deal with the potentially harmful impacts of nanotechnology in
