

Hello,

It's my pleasure to invite you to take part in Consumers International's Consumer Product Safety survey.

Consumers International has developed this survey to gather information about consumer protection frameworks for product safety across the world. The survey builds on a more general survey that was conducted in 2013, but focuses on the issue of product safety and aims to capture more detail and support more differentiation between national approaches.

Our goal is to use the information we collect to support ongoing communication and advocacy on the topic of product safety. The results will also feed into an interactive safety index that has been developed by UL, a global safety science company.

You will need to complete the survey in one sitting. The attached link provides an outline of the questions. We suggest reading it before you start, as you may need to research some information.
