

The International Consumer Product Health and Safety Organization (ICPHSO) is proud to be the only organization that attracts a global audience of health and safety professionals who meet to exchange ideas and share information to address health and safety concerns. To do this effectively, ICPHSO needs to support stakeholders that may not have the resources to attend our meetings. ICPHSO provides the sole international forum for consumer product safety. Therefore, making sure that all stakeholders can participate regardless of their resources is an important goal that furthers the richness and breadth of our meetings.

ICPHSO offers a scholarship for qualified applicants. Here is how you can apply for an ICPHSO Scholarship:

- Write a paragraph about why you feel it is important for you to attend the meeting(s). Include information that you will be able to share with the attendees and what you expect to learn from your experiences that could impact a positive safety change in your organization or community.
- Print this document and complete the application below. E-mail the completed form along with your written paragraph as noted above to the e-mail address below.
- Applicants will be notified as soon as possible of the Scholarship committees' decision.
- Highest priority will be given to consumers, public interest groups, academia, researchers, injury prevention professionals, state and local government and international governments.
- The costs covered by the scholarship will vary depending upon available resources and upon applications requests. Not all requested costs may be covered.
  - Potential costs covered could include waived or reduced registration, hotel room and other actual costs to attend. Those requesting fewer expenses to be covered, such as free registration only, will be given higher priority.

We appreciate your application submission and thank you for your interest and support of ICPHSO. (ICPHSO also encourages scholarship sponsors to assist us in allowing stakeholders to attend conferences so all stakeholder viewpoints are heard).
